

DISCUSSED NAVAL
APPROPRIATIONSThis Occupied Most of Yesterday's Session in the House.

THE ALASKAN CIVIL CODE

After Adopting a Resolution Carrying Out the President's Recommendation, the Senate Gave Attention to Alaskan Bill.WASHINGTON, April 19.—The House spent practically the entire day debating appropriation in the naval bill desired to turn over to the navy the surveying and charting of the waters of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The bill carried an appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose.Mr. Cannon, chairman of the Appropriation Committee, led the fight against it, arguing that such surveying of these waters as should be made should be performed by the Coast and Geodetic Survey.
In the end the House sustained his view, adopting an amendment offered by him to appropriate only the regular $10,000 for ocean surveys.The chairman of the Committee of the Whole, Mr. Tamm, overruled the point of order against the appropriation for the new naval academy, but an amendment offered by Mr. Cannon was adopted, providing that before the money appropriated by the bill for the academy be expended, plans for the whole, not to cost exceeding $500,000, be submitted and approved.Mr. Cannon offered an amendment to the bill, which appropriated $100,000 for the surveys of the Island of Guam, Hawaii, Philippines, Porto Rico and Cuba, and charting the obstructions of the great lakes, a simple provision appropriating $100,000 for continuing ocean surveys.Mr. Moody, of Massachusetts, advocated the amendment. He pointed out that the proposition in the bill was designed to create a rival to the Coast and Geodetic Survey in the Navy Department. The navy had sought many times to control it, to yield would be to incur the real danger of militarism. Coast survey work properly belonged to the Coast and Geodetic Survey. He cited the case of the naval observatory to prove that there was not a proper amount of scientific work under naval officers. That observatory's work, he said, was "laughing stock of the scientific world. Every man to his own trade."OCEAN SURVEYS.
Mr. Foss, in charge of the bill, contended that the right of the navy to make ocean surveys of the coast and the islands of the sea had never been disputed hitherto.Mr. Foss asked if it was fair to hold officers responsible for ships sailing over seas charted by civilians? Every foreign navy in the world made its own surveys.
A lively debate followed. Mr. McRae, of Arkansas, supported the amendment.Mr. Cummings, of New York, argued that the proposed surveys should be made by the navy, not by a semi-political bureau like the Coast and Geodetic Survey. He read a letter from a man now in the survey who had served twenty years at sea. The letter described the work as "a lonely, lonely, lonely life." He said, "I am a commanding officer. I was only a boatswain in the navy."Mr. Cannon concluded the debate in favor of the amendment. The House voted 150 yeas to 100 nays. "In the performance of civil duties," said he with great emphasis, "they are the most incompetent and the most expensive."The amendment, which followed this utterance, some one cried out something about "Dewey."
"Oh, I am not talking politics," responded Mr. Cannon. "I am talking dollars and cents and efficiency. I am am a great admirer of Admiral Dewey and all the other officers and men who served in the Spanish war. I love them so well, that I see men trying to set them to work at something at which they cannot succeed. I call it a "hall" (laughter and applause).The Cannon amendment, after a protracted debate under the five-minute rule, was finally adopted—111 to 40.The chair then turned to the point of order pending against the appropriation of $500,000 for the new naval academy at Annapolis.
Mr. Cannon moved an amendment to limit the total cost of the proposed improvements at Annapolis to $500,000.
Mr. Mudd, of Maryland, reserved a point of order against the amendment.
Mr. Cannon said according to the plans submitted to the Senate, the barracks, which were to house 240 boys, were to cost $200,000.
After Mr. Cannon offered a substitute for his original amendment to appropriate $500,000 for the cadets' barracks, providing that the cost of the improvements should be paid by the Government, the amendment was adopted. The bill, which would keep the cost of the whole improvement within $500,000, including the $100,000 already appropriated, and the sum carried by the bill. The substitute was agreed to—45 to 41.Mr. Mudd gave notice that he would demand a separate vote on the amendment in the House.Without completing debate the committee rose at 5 P. M. The House then adjourned.In the Senate.
WASHINGTON, April 19.—In accordance with the recommendation of the President in his message sent to Congress yesterday, the Senate to-day passed a joint resolution providing for the administration of civil affairs in Porto Rico pending the appointment of officers under the Porto Rico Government Law recently enacted. The resolution precipitated a lively but friendly debate, which developed some interesting features.During the remainder of the session the Alaskan civil code bill was under consideration, the debate continuing on the Hansbrough amendment, and delivered a speech in support of it.Mr. Spooner antagonized both the original and substitute amendments, holding that the courts ought to settle the conflicting claims without interference by Congress.The House bill relating to the allowance of expenses was also under consideration. It amends section 53 of the Revised Statutes so as to provide that in case of the death or disability of the trial judge in any cause his successor may hear and pass upon motions for a new trial and allow and sign bills of exception.A resolution directing that the compilation, publication and distribution of the work, "Messages and Papers of the Presidents," the result of the permission given to private persons to use the stereotyped pages, be investigated by the Committee on Printing, was adopted.The Foraker joint resolution, providing for the temporary Porto Rican administration, was then taken up.Mr. Chandler hoped senators would introduce resolutions of inquiry if they desired information and permit the pending resolution to pass.

TILLMAN SARCASMATIC.

"We are," said Mr. Tillman, of South Carolina, in reply to a grand pa-perant on May, when the new government is to be inaugurated. This inauguration is to take place with the greatest ceremony ever seen in any part of the United States. I imagine that the purpose of this display is to impress the people with the grandeur and greatness of the United States, as well as to im-the new policy of imperialism by which an American pre-consum is to take possession of the island.After awhile, of course, we will have another governor sent to the Philippines, and he will be of so much greater importance than the Governor of the little island of Porto Rico that I suppose he must have the navy escort him across the Pacific, and must have umbrellas held over him like the Boy of Algiers and the Sultan of Morocco. We will have him attended by our subject princes in the Sulu archipelago with Mohammed body-guards, and all that sort of thing. If that is the purpose of keeping these army officers in Porto Rico I will interpose no obstacle to the passage of the resolution."Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, inquired whether United States army officers were in receipt of salaries as civil officials in addition to their pay as army officers.Mr. Foraker replied that the army officers were prohibited by law from accepting such additional pay.Mr. Bacon said he had understood that some army officers were receiving large salaries in addition to their regular pay.

Mr. Chandler said that if Congress ought to know, and suggested Mr. Tillman offer a resolution of inquiry.Mr. Bacon said he had understood it to be the purpose of the leaders of the dominant party in Congress to adjourn early in June. He thought it inadvisable, therefore, that the limit of the tenure of office of temporary officials should be so far removed as August 1st, as these officers all would have to be confirmed by the Senate.Mr. Foraker suggested most of the appointments at least would be made before adjournment.PRESIDENT'S DESIRE.
Mr. Bacon explained his information as to adjournment came from newspapers, intimating it was the President's desire.Mr. Platt replied with some heat that he was not aware the President expressed his desires through the newspapers.Mr. Spooner, he believed, "Order" of an early adjournment, and I think, so far as I know the sentiment of the country, that the people would be glad to have us adjourn even before June.""I think the Senate is entirely correct," said Mr. Spooner. "Nothing can be done at this session of Congress except by the dominant party, and the less work is done the better, and the sooner we adjourn without doing any more of that work the greater the gratification of the country will be." (Laughter.)The measure was finally passed without division.A bill authorizing the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to redeem or make allowance for internal revenue stamps not used or usable was passed.When the Alaskan code bill was taken up Mr. Carter defended the alleged rights of the so-called Alaskan who had jumped valuable claims. He had read a petition from the "Law and Order League," of the Cape Nome District, making serious charges against the United States army officer in command of the district, implicating that the officer was personally interested in these claims.Mr. Tillman, of Illinois, inquired if this officer had not been dispersed at the point of the bayonet a regularly organized miners' meeting in the Cape Nome District.

RIGID INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Carter replied that he had been informed that soldiers of the United States had dispersed a meeting of American citizens called together to make rules and regulations for the government of mining in the district, and subsequently, he said, some had been lodged in jail at St.
Michael.That this action of the United States army will be subjected to a rigid investigation there can be no doubt," said Mr.
Carter, "and the investigation must be searching and thorough. The facts will come out in time, and if guilt exists the guilty man may well begin to tremble now." Mr. Carter offered a substitute for Mr.
Hansbrough's amendment, and delivered a speech in support of it.The substitute provides that this act shall not be construed as changing the existing United States mining laws, but in any proceeding hereafter commenced involving the validity of an unpatentedmine location on the public domain any party alleging an interest in the subject matter may put the competency of the locator in issue, the court to determine the locator's citizenship purposes at the time the location was made.Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin, opposed the amendment and declared that the charges made against an army officer could have nothing whatever to do with the question at issue. He said the Carter amendment might greatly injure the American miners now operating in Canada. It was retroactive legislation and abhorrent in every way.Mr. Tillman urged Congress to take no action that might deter the mine from leaving Russia and settling in Alaska, thus affording a good population for the district.The bill was laid aside, and after a brief executive session the Senate, at 5 P. M., adjourned.PORTO RICAN MONEY Arrangements for Its Retirement All Complete.
WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Treasury Department has completed the arrangements for the retirement of Porto Rican money and the substitution of American currency. James A. Sample, the chief of the issue division of Treasurer Roberts, and Mr. W. P. Watson, of New York, an expert accountant, have been selected to go to Porto Rico to make the exchange and will leave before May 1st.The work is to be done under the supervision of the Treasury Department, which provides for the retirement of the Porto Rican peso and all other money on the island and the exchange thereof of American money.It is estimated that there are 10,000,000 gold, silver certificates and subsidiary coins to Porto Rico to replace the pesos and other coins. The silver certificate is the only form of United States currency which will be used at present in the island. The amount of each kind of money to be sent at once is as follows: Minor coins, $15,000; subsidiary silver, $50,000; silver certificates, $500,000; and gold coins, $105,000, making $500,000 in all.REPORT FROM HAY Concerning Taking Up Arms by Chicago Ambulance Corps.WASHINGTON, April 19.—United States Consul Hay, at Pretoria, has notified the State Department by cable of the reported action of the members of the Chicago Ambulance Corps in taking up arms in the Boer army, instead of continuing with the Hospital Corps, to which they had pledged themselves upon leaving the United States.Apparently the Portuguese authorities at Lorenzo Marques had doubts as to the actual neutrality of these men, for the party was detained many days at the port before they were allowed to proceed over the railway to Pretoria. The dispatches stated that after from Miss Barton turned the tide in their favor.Miss Barton was said to have declared that certain members of the party were known to her and believed to be going under true colors.The officials here say that nothing can be done by the government to prevent such violations of faith as are reported from South Africa. The men did not goout with arms, and so did not fulfill the legal character of a filibuster party which would have enabled the United States authorities to prevent their departure.
Similarly the Portuguese authorities felt obliged to let the unknown men pass through Lorenzo Marques, and it would appear that unless the British Government could induce the Portuguese to take a different view of their obligations, Portuguese South Africa will remain an open doorway for recruits entering the Transvaal.The Virginia Bond Case The Work of Getting a Jury Was Begun Yesterday.NEW YORK, April 19.—What is known as the Virginia-bond forgery case came up for trial today, when Judge Schreder announced that he would order the manipulators of Forest Hill, N. Y., to be placed on trial for forgery in the first degree before Judge Newburger, in general sessions. Schreder is charged with forging the names of D. R. Revely, Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and H. H. Dyson, Second Auditor of the State, to a bond of the issue of 1882, which he is accused of having hypothecated. Schreder is alleged to have got hold of bonds of the Commonwealth of Virginia, and raised $100,000 on them.In February, 1882, the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of the State of Virginia voted to purchase bonds and order were sent to the Kimball Bank-Note Company for them. The bonds were never issued, and the package was sent to the Kimball Company's warehouse.Last November Schreder visited the office of Laidenberg, Thalmann & Co., where he saw Paul Lichtenstein, an employee. Lichtenstein says Schreder offered fifty-six of the Virginia bonds, representing $56,000 face value, as security for a loan of $100,000. One of these bonds—No. 150, payable July 1, 1902, and dated July 1, 1882—is that on which the specific charge against Schreder was paid $25,000 in one check, and $100,000 in two checks later.Further allegations are that Schreder visited the Importers and Traders' Bank, and got rid of bonds for $75,000, and that he got $20,000 from the Seaboard National Bank. The work of getting a jury was began to-day.NEW CABINET Disensions Break Up the Old Spanish Council.MADRID, April 19.—On account of dis-ensions among its members, the Ministerial Council has been displaced by a new one, the composition of which follows: President of the Council and Minister of Marine, Senor Silveira; Minister of Foreign Affairs, Marquis Aguilar Camo; Minister of Justice, Marquis Vallado; Minister of Finance, Marquis de Villaverde; Minister of the Interior, Senor Dato; Minister of War, General Azcaraga; Minister of Public Instruction, Senor Garcia Aliz; Minister of Agriculture and of Public Works, Senor Gasset. No disturbances followed the change of cabinet. Four of the newly appointed Ministers were members of the retiring cabinet, namely: Senor Silveira, General Azcaraga, Marquis de Villaverde and Senor Dato.A BRONZE TABLET of Frederick W. Hamden.WASHINGTON, April 19.—Secretary Long has undertaken to have a bronze tablet cast at the Washington Navy Yard and erected in Santiago, Cuba, at a point to be designated by General Wood in commemoration of the services of the late Frederick W. Hamden, who, while British consul at Santiago during the Spanish-American war, rendered valuable services to the United States in protecting American interests there, and during the war and who died while at his post of duty.The tablet will bear an artistic inscription recounting the services of the deceased.RAPID ADVANCE

KNIGHTS OF THE HORSESHOE

Hold an Enthusiastic Meeting at the T. P. A. Rooms—Officers Elected and Organization Perfect.A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Knights of the Golden Horseshoe was held at the Travelers' Protective Association rooms last night.
Much business in perfecting the organization was transacted and a large number of members was added to the rolls.
After these gentlemen had been initiated a committee was appointed to nominate the officers to command the Knights during the Carnival.SECRET ORDEE.
As this organization is one in which the greatest secrecy is observed, the names of the officers could not be ascertained.After this committee had made the report, the officers were elected and permanent organization was effected.
At the request of the Committee on Committees, they were given an extension of one week in which to complete their work.The membership of the organization is increasing daily, and bids fair to be one of the features of the Carnival.The following communication from a former Richmond, now in Washington, has been received here:COMMUNICATION.
"It seems to me that full information regarding railroad fares, boarding-house and hotel rates during the Carnival, should be given and without delay.""Washington will no doubt have a large contingent on hand and questions on the above subject are being asked. As a former Richmond citizen, the writer hopes good accommodations will be offered at the usual rates, and that there will be no extortion anywhere. Let the fat go forth by the committee having such matters in charge to that effect and, no doubt, good results will follow. In this connection, permit me to remark that there are many points of interest near Richmond, within a few hours' ride on cars or steamboat, where visitors will wish to go. Let the information be, also, given in the public press about them. The writer is anxious to see the Carnival a glorious success, 'only that and nothing more.'"MILITARY.
A letter has been received by the Military Committee from Captain Land, of the Surrey Troop, saying that his troop will arrive here with fifty mounted men on May 15th to take part in the Carnival ceremonies on the 17th.This is the only troop of cavalry in the State, and their determination to attend the Carnival speaks well for this gallant organization. This is one of the commands that took part in the Pocahontas expedition a few years since.There will be an important meeting of the Military Committee on Friday night at 8:30 o'clock at the First Regimental Armory, when business of great importance will be considered.Director-General Benson has returned from a trip in the western portion of the State, where he has been making a tour looking after the interests of the Carnival, and seeing what this section intends to do in regard to making exhibits and attending the festivities. He is very much pleased with the interest being taken in the matter and is confident that the people of the State will be well represented. He says that arrangements are being made in Roanoke, to bring an entire train-load of visitors to the city one day during the week.JUNIORS MEET.
A meeting of the general committee of the Junior Order United American Mechanics was held Wednesday night at the office of Mr. William H. Beveridge and it was decided to make an extensive parade during the Carnival Week.There will be a large number of the members of this organization in line in regalia, which will consist of red, white and blue sashes, alternating throughout the entire line. Besides this large representation the uniforms will have two very handsome floats in line.They will represent the tenets of the order—the ancient and modern schoolhouse.LOG-CABIN SCHOOL.
The first float will have the old log-cabin school, in a reduced size, being about five feet square by seven feet and will be a beautiful and striking addition to the parade. The other float will represent the modern school-house, being a brick school with all modern appliances and improvements.This will be about eight feet square by six feet high.
The Juniors are greatly interested in the matter and will make a fine showing.
David Bottom, Grand Counsellor, will have charge of the Juniors and will be assisted by a committee of three from each local council.The contract with the Richmond's Blues Band for that organization to take part in the musical programme for Carnival Week, and it has been listed as Band No.
1.The premium Committee has about completed its work and the full list of prizes and premiums are now in the hands of the printers.As soon as these are completed the entire list will be given out to the public.

BIG CATCHES OF FISH.

A New Steamer on Potomac-Baltimore Line—Camp Ground Threatened.LETHBRIDGE, VA., April 19.—Special.—The fishermen in this section have been catching large quantities of fish, and an extra boat has been placed on the Baltimore route to carry the fish.The Weems Steamboat Company will put a new steamer on their Baltimore and Potomac River route about May 1st.
She will be named "Northumberland" for this county. William Geoghegan, who has been captain of the steamer Potomac for many years, will be her commander.Farmers are very much delayed in planting their early crops on account of the cool weather.Forest fires have caused much damage through this section the past week. Kirkland Grove camp ground was threatened with destruction by fire a few days ago, and but for the hard work of the people of the community, would have been destroyed.Bubonic Plague.
LAS PALMAS, CANARY ISLANDS, April 19.—The German steamer Pailan has arrived here from Rosario with two cases of bubonic plague on board. One of the stricken persons died after the vessel reached port. The steamer has been quar-antined.No record of a steamer named "Pailan" can be found in the Maritime Registers accessible.

Steamer Floated.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, April 19.—The German steamer Hansa, Captain Petersen, which arrived April 15th from Norfolk and grounded in the harbor, has been released after discharging part of her cargo.
